A beautifully reformed, south facing, 3 bedroom townhouse located in Tarbena, the last village in the Marina Baixa, nestled between the mountains. The property has been completely renovated using a mixture of high quality new and original materials with clay floor tiles, oak flooring and marble tiles as well as antique mobila doors from a convent and original balustrades on the staircases. The accommodation is spread over three floors and also has a wine cellar. The ground floor comprises: hallway; lounge with fireplace and library; dining room; kitchen with dresser; cloakroom and terrace. The first floor has an inner hallway; guest bedroom and master suite with fireplace, en-suite bathroom and large terrace. The third floor comprises a studio with library; guest WC and a further double bedroom with private terrace. The wonderful views of the mountains with the sea in the distance can be enjoyed throughout the day thanks to the orientation of the property - a truly lovely way to spend leisurely days and evenings enjoying the sunshine and al-fresco dining.
